GUEST ENTERTAINERS EXCELLENT

Outstanding among the guest entertainers was Mrs. Inez Horn of the Golden Gate Conservatory of Music and her 20 piece Spanish costumed concert band of youngsters. Mrs. Erna Slee with her Aloah Guitar Club of accomplished players performing on their electric guitars presented a rare musical treat. The Vernazza twins, James and Joseph of our own community were at their best in accordion selections. George and Ralph Schinaze, pupils of Mrs. Inez Horn, played in her band as well as on the afternoon program by themselves. Lion Cub Wallace Nielsen, pupil of Mrs. Erna Slee, rendered the "Spanish Fandango"

GEORGE FINALLY MADE SUCCESS OF DEATH TRY

After Courting Final Fadeout By Cutting Throat And In Inhaling Gas, Drowning Turned The Trick

Warren George Hambleton, familiarly known as "George" to his associates, was found, Sunday morning of this week, drowned in a shallow lily pond in the Home Peace Cemetery at Lawndale.

On two other occasions the dead man has attempted suicide, but without success. A few months ago, Daly City police were called to his little home at 618 San Diego avenue by neighbors, who smelled gas. It was only because they rushed him to Villa Sanitarium, kept him there for two days in an "iron lung," that Hambleon didn't die, then.

But the despondent man was still determined to die.

A few weeks later, there was a trail of blood one morning, from the beauty shop where he worked as janitor-watchman to his home. Again the police found him—with his wrists and throat cut. Again they saved his life, at the same sanitarium.

Sunday morning, early comers to the Home of Peace Cemetery, at Lawndale, saw a man lying, face down, in a shallow pool, there. This time, Warren Hambleton had had his way—he had been dead for hours by the time they found him.

More as a matter of routine than anything else an inquest was held. The verdict was "Drowned suicide."

Funeral services were conducted from the mortuary establishment of W. C. Lasswell & Co., Monday of this week. Interment was at Cypress Lawn Cemetery.

Coronation By Mayor Feature Of Program

Among the many features of the May Day program to be staged on May 8 will be the crowning of King James and Queen Dorothy by Mayor Selmi, as king and queen of the May festival.

An extensive program is being planned by the Daly City Recreation staff in conjunction with the many local units which are to take part in the day's exercises.

Miss Rose will stage a program of dance and song by pupils from her studio. The complete program of events will be published next week in The Record.

TAX PAYMENTS BETTER THIS YEAR

Surveying preliminary results of the 1937-1938 county tax collections, Tuesday of this week, County Tax Collector Ambrose McSweeney announced that collections were better this year than last.

The total bill against the county, he pointed out, was $2,920,014, about $800,000 higher than 1936-37. The delinquency on Tuesday stood at $181,073, with prospects of collecting about $300,000 more in the course of clearing, McSweeney estimated. While the delinquency was smaller in dollars and cents than last year, it was larger in percentage, he said.

Hoofs Begin to Fly at Tanforan Tomorrow

(By the Stable Boy)

Thundering hoofs of thoroughbreds will bring thrills to race fans when they again reverberate in speeding competition at Tanforan for a twenty-five day spring meeting, beginning tomorrow, Saturday, April 30.

What promises to be the greatest racing session ever to be staged in Northern California will get under way when the field is sent from the starting gate for the first race at 2 o'clock p. m.

The feature attraction on opening day will be the sixth race, the Tanforan Inaugural Handicap, at six furlongs, with $2500 added as a stimulus for the field of high class performers entered. This contest is for three year olds and upward.

Another feature, which has excited keen interest among lovers of the fast steppers, is the Heather Farm Handicap, for a purse of $1200, for four year olds and upward, at a mile and a sixteenth. Considerable competition is promised the faithful in the running of this event.

A great deal of interest and enthusiasm has been manifested by followers of the thoroughbreds, and this spring meeting is confidently looked forward to as the best ever staged at the popular home course.

Many of the highest class runners now campaigning in the West are stabled and ready for action at Tanforan, and much formful racing is anticipated.

GILBERT THINKS WIFE MURDERED

On his way from Nogalez, Ariz., to Minden, Nev., "Jim" Gilbert, husband of Marian Gilbert, San Mateo County woman missing in Nevada, expressed his opinion that the woman was murdered, when interviewed at San Jose, early this week.

Gilbert, 27, himself named as a murder victim until last Saturday, said his theory of the puzzling Nevada case was that his 22 year old wife was the victim of foul play.

"I don't think she died in a blizzard," he declared.

MACHINE WRECK CAUSES DEATH OF JAYSEE STAR

Charles Barrachi, 27, former San Mateo Junior College football star, was killed when his car crashed into a tree near Decoto, Monday of this week.

Barrachi, who was coach at Hayward High School, attended Junior College here in 1931 and left in the spring of 1932 to enter San Jose State College.

He graduated from the San Jose college in 1936 and was for some time employed by the Stanford University physical education department before taking the coaching position at Hayward.

Baracchi was driving to work from his home at Palo Alto, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Angello Baracchi, and a sister, Mary, live, when the accident occurred.

The car skidded out of control on a wet patch of highway paving a mile from Decoto and struck a tree.

PLAN FOR ANNEX TO COURT HOUSE IS GIVEN OKEH

Supervisors Discard Old Building Program In Favor Of New Project

The proposed county office building next to the county jail was discarded this week in favor of a $250,000 addition to the front of the courthouse on Broadway, in Redwood City.

Decision to erect an annex was reached after an executive meeting of the Board of Supervisors and county officials, at which preliminary plans and sketches were presented by Planning Secretary Ronald Campbell and Building Inspector William Watson Jr.

Application has been forwarded by air mail to the Public Works Administration in Washington for approval of the change in plans.

Cost of the office building was estimated at $181,818, with the county's share, $100,000.

The board decided to increase the cost of the annex to $250,000. This will include $225,000 for construction and $25,000 for furnishings.

The PWA will be asked to increase the amount of its grant in keeping with the raise in the sponsor's share. The Federal grant is approximately 45 per cent of total cost.

The county has already raised $100,000 over a two-year period, and another $50,000—half of which would go to buy furnishings, will be included in the 1938-39 budget if the change in plans is approved by Washington.

U. S. AVIATOR HELD IN JAPAN

Elwyn Gibbins, United States flier who was recently taken off a Canadian liner at Yokohama by Japanese officials and held as a "prisoner of war." Gibbon, en route to Seattle, had served in the Chinese air force during the early part of the current Sino-Japanese war. Great Britain and the United States, concerned over Gibbon's fate, began an investigation into the case. Gibbon was charged by the Japanese with having "confessed" he took part in the bombing of Japanese tropps, but Gibbon denied he had been anything but an aviation instructor for the Chinese. His wife was permitted to continue her trip to Seattle.

Police indicated, later, that the aviator might be released soon.

ALL SCHOOLS IN DISTRICT HAVE PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK PROGRAMS

Road To Learning Opened To Citizens Through Exhibitions Of Class Work And Activities

The local observance of Public School Week had its premiere showing when the doors of the six schools in the Jefferson School District, under the supervision of Supt. R. L. Crane, threw open their doors to reopen the "road to learning" to parents and friends of education. Preliminary notices sent out by the county superintedent, Pansy Jewett Abbott, and the Governor of the State, urging the schools to "bring the public to the schools" or "take the schools to the public" was met with whole hearted cooperation by principals and teachers in the various schools.

Daily actual classroom work and activities were exhibited for the public so that they were able to evaluate themselves the marvelous strides in education in the last decade. Outstanding accomplishments in each school attracted and brought forth favorable comment from visitors throughout the district.

At Woodrow Wilson Elementary School "go to school night" proved of great interest as fifty citizens visited the school on Tuesday evening in the interval of a brief hour. The history of writing, replicas of the first printing press, interesting puppets, integrated social science, art and language activities as well as statistical charts and graphs proved of interest to parents. On Thursday afternoon many mothers and friends

INSPIRING TALK ON OPPORTUNITY

Problems Of Youth Reviewed In Public Schools Week Address

"People seek security and freedom of action in the day in which we live. Various isms have appealed to many as they have promised security and freedom of action. We desire a reasonable amount of freedom of action."

So stated Dr. Franklin Sewell, political science instructor at San Francisco Junior College, as he addressed a large audience at the special public school week program at Jefferson Union High School auditorium, Tuesday evening of this week.

"Youth is faced with complex times. We live in a world of constant changes and the question of adjusting ones self to this changing world is a vital one," declared the speaker. He illustrated the changing process by citing the million dollar carriage used by Napoleon in contrast to the $25 used cars of ancient vintage used by American college students. The former moved slowly over cobble stone streets while the old automobiles move swiftly over smoothly paved streets.

"Today in modern education we are trying to get a broad background and assist the young people in learning to spend their leisure time in the most pleasing way possible. We are attempting to build a plan for a fuller life in order that we might encourage the art of living.

"We are entering a period when the new fields of opportunity are great. There is a challenge to the pioneer spirit, and youth will not fail. Youth has never failed. We have a great opportunity for training these young men and women who will pioneer in the future," declared Dr. Sewell, in conclusion.

Mr. James Ferguson, principal of the school, acted as chairman of the evening and introduced the speaker after the audience had taken the pledge of allegiance to the flag and a brief musical program was presented by the music department of the high school. Special musical numbers were provided by Jean Bomke, George Shinazy, and the Vernazza Twins. The A Capella Choir, ably directed by Albert Scott, presented two numbers.

Following the formal program, a tour of inspection of the newly completed gynasium and swimming pool was enjoyed by hundreds of patrons of the school and students. All were loud in their praise of the modern building equipment that is now available for the high school students of this district.

Sea Scouts Enjoy An Easter Outing

The Sea Scouts of Ship 149 celebrated Easter week by going on a camping trip. They left on the street car about 8:30 a. m., Sunday, April 10, and rode as far as San Mateo. From there they proceeded on a hike to La Honda, a distance of about twenty-five miles. The destination was reached in the late afternoon of the same day by a very tired group of boys, who immediately prepared supper and "turned in."

The following days were busily occupied by baseball, one of the main features, swimming and short walks into town each night.

Things were packed, very reluctantly, on Wednesday afternoon, and the boys were driven home by the Skipper's wife, Mrs. J. A. Ledterman, who had previously brought the heavier necessities of camping.

The selected camp ground was quite desirable, because of the absence of any other early vacationers.

DALY CITY TEAM LOSES FIRST TILT

Last Sunday the Daly City Lions dropped their first game in four starts, 10 to 9, in a tough battle to the All Stars from San Francisco. Trailing 10 to 2 going into the last half of the sixth, they started on a rampage and scored one run in the sixth, one in the seventh, four in the eighth and, with Kelly on first base and McBride on third, Madrid doubled, to tally McBride, but on a beautiful throw by Kelleher from right field, Kelly was cut off at the plate on a close play.

The hitting stars for the Lions were Haran, who hit two doubles and a single; Madrid, who made the same score as Haran; Griffith and Fitzgerald, who hit a double and a single.

HONORS BRIDE TO BE WITH LUNCHEON

Miss Ruth Lindorff of Flournoy street was honored, Friday of last week, by Mrs. De Witt Young at her home on Twenty-ninth street in Oakland. The affair, a luncheon, was in the form of a grocery shower, about 35 guests being present.

LIGHTWEIGHTS IN TRACK CONTEST

This Saturday (tomorrow) morning all the aspiring lightweight cinder men in the peninsula will gather on Stanford's Angell Field to complete their season in the annual P. A. L. track and field meet. As it looks now, San Jose's lightweights will probably take first place. The Bulldog twenties are an exceptionally strong team and should take the meet easily, whereas, San Jose's thirties might be given trouble by Burlingame and Sequoia.

The Jefferson lightweights are not expected to be in the money but, nevertheless, the meet should see quite a few Indians placing. For instance, in the twenties we have Emo Barghini who will be right out in front in the 50 and 100 and should take the broadjump. Jack Parker probably will take a place in the high jump and the pole vault. Jerry Jones might take a third or fourth in the hurdles and likewise for Jack Willard in the 440.

The thirties are minus the material of the other division but should find Carl Dallasio placing in the 440. La Joie Mon Santo might come through in the weight events for a few points for Jeff. Roy Smith may give the other hurdlers a run for their money in the high and low barriers.

WASHINGTON NEWS

FROM OUR CONGRESSMAN
JOHN J. McGRATH

Business—Economists feel that instead of under confidence on the part of business men, over confidence was the cause of the present depression. They observe that the automobile industry pushed sales on easier terms than ever before; raw material prices as well as those of finished goods have been pushed up; and inventories of goods have shown a rapid increase. In his recent message to Congress, President Roosevelt said that fear played an important part. Fear of war, fear of labor trouble, and fear of price increases themselves, were listed as causing the present recession.

Labor Bill—Many types of measures have been proposed for the wage-hour legislation. Now a measure has been brought out from the House Committee on Labor. The bill would start out with a 25-cent minimum wage for all interstate industry except agriculture, and within three years the bill would increase the minimum to 40 cents an hour. Hours would be similarly regulated, starting at 44 hours, then down to 40 hours within two years. The Department of Labor would have charge of the bill.

Banker—Through its various lending agencies, the federal government has become the United State's greatest banker. The government is equipped at present to loan money to business men, to state and local governments for construction, to individuals for home construction, and to farmers for crops. All these are brought about through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation; the Public Works Administration; the New Housing Authority and the Commodity Credit Corporation. The government's present banking operations involve $7,608,000,000 in loans and in total assets $11,800,000,000. Against this is a total liability of $7,373,000,000.

Railroads — A bill drafted by Chairman Wheeler is likely to speed railroad reorganizations. At this session the only proposals likely to be enacted for railroads are revision of reorganization procedure, repeal of the law under which the government is given special rates for freight from land grant carriers, and to enable railroads to purchase equipment with a loan of $300,000,000.

Postmaster Appointments — A proposition to put postmaster appointments back under the spoils system, was rejected. When Senator McKellar of Tennessee registered a bill recently, permitting Congressmen to recommend appointees for postmasterships from among the three standing highest on eligible lists, a 49 to 20 vote in the Senate threw out the bill and substituted instead, the one introduced by Representative Ramspeck of Georgia which is designed to tighten civil service requirements.

Naval Construction—Favorably reported by the House Committee on Naval Affairs is a bill limiting profits on naval construction contracts to ten per cent of the contract price and all such profits in excess of ten per cent to be payed into the treasury. Losses on naval contracts would be allowed as a credit for the next succeeding income taxable year, according to this bill. Bills were also approved by the committee authorizing the navy to sell scrap metals to accredited schools, colleges and universities for use in vocational training; authorizing training of citizens for navy duty at naval stations for short periods; and authorizing a naval works program of $6,000,000.

Sixty-five And Over — Nearly eight million persons in the United States have reached or passed the critical age of 65. Particular interest attaches to them because of state and federal legislation recently enacted to bring them a measure of economic security. At the beginning of 1937 there were three large groups of aged (each numbering about one million persons) who possessed or received some form of income: persons with current earnings, persons with savings, and those in receipt of public assistance (old age assistance and aid to the blind) under the Social Security Act. In addition, there were three smaller miscellaneous groups: one of about half a million (514,000) persons who received federal, state, municipal, and private pensions, insurance annuities and so forth; a second of about one fourth of a million (268,000) persons who received various forms of organized public or private relief, other than public assistance under the Social Security Act in their own homes; and a third group of about 200,000 aged persons who were in public or private homes, in hospitals for mental disease, or in other institutions. Out of a total of about 7.8 million persons 65 or over on January 1, 1937, in the continental United States and Alaska and Hawaii, it is believed that: Approximately one third (2.7 million) were self-dependent. Approximately one fifth (1.6 million) were supported wholly or partially by public or private agencies. Between two fifths and one half (3.5 million, or 45 per cent) appear to have been essentially dependent on friends and relatives. Approximately two thirds (5 million) were supported wholly or partially by public or private social agencies or were dependent on friends and relatives.

PARLOR INITIATES

The regular meeting of El Carmelo Parlor No. 181 was held with Worthy President Margaretha Schade presiding.

Sister Hazel McDurbin was initiated into the Parlor and immediately joined our drum corps, which won another gold cup in the parade last Sunday, held for the dedication of the new Parkside Park in San Francisco.

Simone's Ex-Aide Wanted In S. F.

Sandra Martin

Sandra Martin, former secretary to Simone Simon, French screen star, who is charged with embezzling approximately $16,000 from the star's personal bank account. Denying she signed a power of attorney for her secretary, Miss Simon declared the document a forgery. Through her attorney, Miss Martin denied reports that she is wanted by San Francisco police on forgery charges. Miss Martin is really Athena Alexandroff, daughter of a former archbishop of the Greek Orthodox Church in Seattle, and is wanted on a 10 year old bad check charge, San Francisco authorities said.

OBSERVATIONS OF GOINGS ON IN NATION CAPITAL

(By Hart Goodrich)

The C. C. C. Celebrates Five Years Of Worthwhile Jobs Well Done On Federal Projects

Conservative and liberal alike agree on at least one New Deal project, and that is the Civilian Conservation Corps. Since the inception of the corps in 1933 more than 2,000,000 men have passed through its gates. These boys are experienced, disciplined, trained to use their hands and brains, to take orders and, important of all, to live with other men. Many of them have since found employment in private industries and have made good. No longer are they shiftless and downhearted. They are now men

The main objective has been conservation of natural resources. CCC has performed so effectively that leading conservationists agree that the conservation program has been advanced by the CCC fifteen to twenty-five years. Enrollees have fought fires on a thousand fronts—some lost their lives. They have checked and controlled blister rust in the Northwest, Dutch elm disease in the Northeast, and pine twig blight in the Southwest. They fought bark beetles in the Western forests and gypsy moths in the East. Twenty million acres of forest lands were made free of these pests.

These boys have planted more than a billion young trees, built thousands of miles of truck trails on forest roads and completed 4,000,000 soil erosion check dams. And from their pay of $30 per month they sent home more than $435,000,000 to some 8,000,000 dependents.

In any national emergency CCC has lent a helping hand to victims of floods, hurricanes, tornadoes, fires, blizzards and droughts.

In 1933, when the depression spread like an epidemic throughout the land, millions of young men were idle, most of them just out of school with no prospect of employment. Idleness breeds mischief. The President knew that the country's natural resources were in need of reclamation, and that 5,000,000 or more young men needed a break! He knew most of them were ready and willing to work if given a chance. Our CCC was born in April of 1933 and thousands of khaki-clad boys found themselves traveling across the country—New York East Siders to Glacier National Park, New Jersey and Rhode Island boys to Oregon. Inexperienced city boys found real adventure in doing outdoor work in some of the most beautiful natural areas in the country. They worked hard, played hard and ate good food. They learned to drive trucks and tractors, fight forest fires, build bridges and stone structures, plant trees. But most of all, they learned how to take care of themselves—a new experience for most of them.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

TROOP NO. 101

(By Troop Scribe Wally E. Coughlin)

Twenty-six scouts received their neckerchiefs in the official investiture of this troop, held at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, on a recent Sunday afternoon. Father Pawleson of C. Y. O. fame officiated and Father John O'Brien of Fairfax preached a sermon that was inspiring to the new scouts.

The church was nearly filled with visiting scouts, scout officials, parents and friends of the troop. Twenty-three scouts received their tenderfoot badges at this service, which speaks well for a troop only three months old.

Saturday of next week, May 7, No. 101 will meet the San Francisco Chinese scouts in a track meet and baseball game. The following week end trip is planned to Camp Lillenthal in Fairfax.

The display of this troop in the window of Edwards Drug Store has been seen and admired by many passersby.

Following is the roster of Troop No. 101:

Patrol Leaders — Robert Gerhard, Joe Collins and James Coughlin; assistant patrol leaders—Stanley Parmisano, Albert Sundstrum and Bobby Crooker; Scouts — Bernard McDermott, Donald Winters, John Dempsey, Robert Ballew, John Fitzgerald, Robert Rode, Edwin Zugar, Robert Lane, Joe Patton, Alfred Bermudez(Timothy Chreisten, William Core, Wally Coughlin, William Lahaye, William Byrne, Melvin Johnson, Gerald Thauberger, Herman Bosch and Philip Bolger. Scoutmaster is Frank P. Coughlin, assistant scoutmaster, Tom P. Talon and troop committeemen, Frank Denning, Ray Denning and Charles Glisner.

In order to pay her Indiana gross income tax of one penny, Miss Mary Ellen Putz of South Bend paid out a total of 33 cents in a notary fee for 25 cents, a 5-cent money order, and a 3-cent stamp.

CO-OPERATION MADE FESTIVAL SUCCESSFUL

BROWNIES MAKE HIT

The Brownies, only recently organized in our community, made a fine showing in an exercise entitled, "The Coming of String." They appeared on both programs.

AL BRUSH MAKES PORTRAITS

Al Brush, Sperry Floru Advertising artist, did a rushing business at his festival studio. All proceeds went into the festival fund and a neat sum was realized, for which we are very grateful.

EMPORIUM HAS DISPLAY

The Emporium Department Store of San Francisco had a wonderful display of Boy Scout, Girl Scout, Cub and Brownie clothing, supplies and other equipment. An attendant from the store was on hand to explain and answer questions of the eager public. The aggregate value of the display was over two hundred dollars and only three articles were missing when a checkup was made. The most valuable article was a scout axe. We are hopeful that the person who took these articles will have a change of heart and return them. No questions will be asked. Otherwise we will have to pay for them.

MARY HILL IS QUEEN

The totals in the Festival of Youth Queen race were as follows for the Queen and six Maids of Honor: Mary Hill 2600, Sophie Sikeotis 1330, Nadine Bledsoe 1310, Joyce Lemon 1170, Maren Nelson 720, Jean Johnson 570 and Lillian Hodges 600.

To Don Laston went the honor of crowning the Queen. He earned the honor by selling the most Credit Tokens of any Scout or Cub.

RAILWAY EXPRESS AGENCY HAS BOOTH

The Railway Express Agency maintained a very interesting booth and gave out several hundreds of model airplane plans to eager youngsters.

MISSION CREAMERY DISPLAYS

"Our Mission is to Please" was put into practice at their booth. Serving Stilliucious Chocolate Milk and Mission Orange, they did a lively business and of course the profit went into the festival fund. We are grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Pocket for this bit of splendid co-operation.

JOY SLIDE PROVES POPULAR

A joy slide built by Scoutmaster John Young, Scout Counselor John A. Mosman and others was a source of joy for the youngsters and pennies for the festival.

MARIONETTE SHOW PLEASES

AMATEUR MOVIES SHOWN

A "Nickelodeon" operated by Scouts Frank Pate and Donald Laston exhibited movies of our past seasons Scouting and Cubbing activities and of the recent Easter egg hunt. "The Doghouse Builders," a comedy with Scouts Donald Laston and Gleen Goode as the principal characters was a feature of the program.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Owing to a mechanical defect the merry-go-round failed to perambulate under its own power, but Scout Edward McIntosh organized a crew of pushers and gave many youngsters thrills at a penny per whirl.

Lesson Sermon Of Christian Science

In all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., a Lesson-Sermon will be read Sunday, May 1, on the subject "Everlasting Punishment."

The Golden Text will be: "Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord God: and not that he should return from his ways, and live?" (Ezekiel 18: 23). Bible selections will include the following passage from Hebrews 12: 11: "Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless afterwards it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby."

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included, which reads as follows: "The sharp experiences of belief in the supposititious life of matter, as well as our disappointments and ceaseless woes, turn us like tired children to the arms of divine Love. Then we begin to learn Life in divine Science. Without this process of weaning, 'Canst thou by searching find out god?' " (p. 322).

At a banquet held in Cedar Keys, Fla., to raise funds for the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation, Mrs. T. D. Duncan found six pearls in the oysters served her. They were valued at $500, and Mrs. Duncan presented them to the Foundation.

JUST POSSIBLE THE MILLENIUM HAS ARRIVED

The Tables Finally Have Turned And Poor County Officials Get A Break

Foresters Hall at Redwood City will be the meeting place for county officialdom, this Saturady night, April 30, as the result of a pleasant surprise.

Usually "hounded" to purchase tickets for this and that "worthy cause," especially in election years, county officials this week greeted with unexpected glee their invitations to attend the Redwood City Municipal Band's Barn Dance, tomorrow night. Each invitation contained a complimentary ticket.

In response tc the consideration of the bandsmen, dozens of the county's leading officials have indicated their intention of attending the rustic affair.

"Big Apple" numbers for the younger set, waltzes and a Paul Jones number to be called by Deputy Sheriff Louis Lodi for the more mature dancers, will be included in the gala program for the evening, it has been announced.

Members of the Redwood City city council have been asked to serve on the reception committee.

SUGGEST WIVES SHOULD NOT WORK

The suggestion of William J. Campbell of Urbana, Ill., that "one-half of the five million married women now working could give up their jobs without causing serious financial distress and provide a much needed panacea for youth unemployment" was presented to a conference on higher education at the University of Illinois, Tuesday of this week.

Campbell, who is Illinois director of the National Youth Administration, recommended that the 2,500,000 "working wives" give up their jobs in favor of unemployed youth.

AUTOS COLLIDE AT BURLINGAME

A three car collision took place on the Bayshore highway at Burlingame avenue, tying up traffic for a short time, Sunday night.

Occupants of the machines, driven by Jean Barbe, Fausta Morenson and Francis H. Pfitzer, all of San Francisco, escaped injury.

JUNIOR COLLEGE WILL WELCOME SCHOOL SENIORS

San Mateo Junior College will welcome high school seniors from Half Moon Bay, Pescadero, Daly City, South San Francisco, Burlingame, San Mateo and Redwood City Wednesday, May 4, at its annual College Day for Seniors. The seven or eight hundred visitors will be shown college classes in action, will be served a picnic lunch and will be given some special entertainment.

May 6 and 7 will be the dates for the holding of the college play, "Stage Door," a production open to the general public. The large cast has worked for the past five weeks preparing for the performance of the popular play.

Recently the college sponsored a trip to the De Young art museum in San Francisco, where many noted art objects, as well as a large junior college display, were on exhibition.

San Mateo is scheduling two football games for the coming fall season with junior college in southern California. One of the games will be played in the south and the other will take place on the San Mateo field. Santa Ana and San Bernardino, top teams in their leagues, are the two schools.

Dick Harris from Redwood City, was San Mateo's representative on the all-conference basketball team, a coaches meeting recently decided. Harris won the high honor through clever playing and heavy scoring.

Various Bay college coeds will be the guests of the Junior College Saturday at an invitational play day. Games and horseback riding will be included. The San Mateo girls recently attended a play day at Marin Jaysee.

Spring soccer practice has been started at the Junior College under Coach Sam Francis, and will be continued for one month in preparation for the fall when the team plays Stanford, California and other Bay colleges.

DIVIDED

Sammy was not prone to overexertion in the classroom. Therefore, his mother was both surprised and pleased when he came home with the announcement: "I got a hundred this morning."

"That's lovely, dear," she said, as she kissed the boy tenderly. "What was it in?" she asked.

Thirteen persons were reported dead and many missing in the worst flood that has hit Georgia in recent years. This aerial photo shows floodswept Rome, Ga., where two tributaries converge with the Alabama River. TEACHERS TAKE TOUR THROUGH COUNTY SCENES

Two hundred teachers of the county enjoyed an all-day car and bus trip to historic and scenic spots in San Mateo County, Saturday of last week. The trip, arranged by the San Mateo Junior College, drew a fine representation of teachers from the Daly City area.

Starting at the historic Mills estate in Millbrae, where the group saw an old Indian mound and early Mexican millstone, the party crossed the Skyline boulevard to Salada Beach, noting the wild flowers the formation of the bay shore line, and the old Portola route on the way. The teachers examined the old Sanchez adobe on the Coastside, the effects of heavy erosion on the hills, and the rock strata as clearly shown on the new highway.

The teachers enjoyed a hearty lunch at Moss Beach, examined the shore line, the elevated seas terraces and then went on to Half Moon Bay, site of early Mexican homes. The group stopped at the Spring Valley lakes to be told of the homes that once existed in those valleys, and ended the journey at the famous old Ralston home in Belmont, now used by the Notre Dame College.

In addition to talks from Junior College instructors, the party heard several discussions on historic spots from Supervisor Alvin Hatch of Half Moon Bay and Roy Cloud, executive secretary of the California Teachers Association, who was born in a home now covered by the lakes.

TALE O' THE TOWN

By Joseph Straughan

MY FRIEND THE CAT

Soy Bean, that's my old flivver's name, was on the blink again and the battery was at fault. I had taken it out and was doctoring it up a bit. It's hard to handle one of the things without spilling some of the biting liquid and therein lies a story. "Skeegaw," a neighborly neighborhood cat (don't know if that's his right moniker or not), made friends with me when I first came to this place. He's a nice fellow. Very companionable and exceedingly playful. His greatest delight seems to be trying to grab moving type bars of my typewriter when I'm writing. Sometimes he gets over enthusiastic and slams back the carriage. If I didn't have a spark of sense of humor I might get riled, but I let it go by scolding him and erasing my mistake if "Skeegaw" hasn't already tossed my eraser away with his playful paw.

Well, getting back to the story, I said that I had spilled some battery acid. The floor being concrete and slightly dusty failed to absorb the liquid and it proceeded along in little puddles towards the drain. My friend Skegaw noticed the slowly moving globules and stooped down to investigate.

"Better look out!" I warned; but he paid no attention and kept eyeing the little pearlly puddle. Well, putting a battery back in an old Ford is job enough for one time and I forgot about Skeegaw and the puddles for the moment—but for not any longer; for he must have tried to hurry them along or something. Anyways he let out a yawl that caused me to drop the battery abruptly. I looked up and he was licking his paws as though he had chicken gravy on them. "Stop it, Skeegaw," I commanded, and made a rush for some baking soda to neutralize the acid. However, Skeegaw beat me up the stairs and down several times. There was no reasoning with that cat. He threatened me with all kinds of bodily harm and I dared not touch him. A passerby hearing the commotion opened the door to see what was going on and out bounded Skeegaw. That cat's antics might have been described as funny, but I didn't laugh, honest.

Weeks have passed and my friend, the cat gives my place a wide, wide berth. And he was such a nice fellow, too!

NO EXCUSE FOR DRUNK DRIVING

Newspapers of San Mateo County carried a story a few days ago relative to the arrest of a man on charges of drunken driving on the Bayshore Highway. This serious offense against society was augmented by the fact that the car he was driving was mechanically unsafe. At the hearing the defendant admitted that his steering wheel had "lots of play"; in fact, there was a full turn of play in the steering wheel.

Records last year of accidents due to mechanical failure, in both fatal and non-fatal accidents, list as the principal causes: brakes defective, puncture or blowout, one or both headlights out, glaring headlights, tail light out or obscured, and steering mechanism defective, with defective brakes showing the largest percentage. Many of these would have been eliminated if all cars had been kept in good condition.—San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

AS FAR BACK AS BIBLICAL EXODUS

Ruins of an ancient race, which archeologists say was highly civilized, are being excavated in the Texas Panhandle, where air-conditioned apartment houses thousands of years old have been uncovered and studied under the sponsorship of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society. The society has obtained a $10,000 WPA grant for the work.

The ruins show a type of summer air-conditioning. A large stone was placed so it could deflect air currents in or out of a ventilating shaft. Fireplaces were used for heatin.g

The archeologists studying the ruins say the race existed 3000 to 4000 years ago, about the time biblical authorities date the Exodus.

TO INVESTIGATE DEPARTMENT OF COUNTY HEALTH

Wants To Know Why Citizens Board Is Not Functioning More Actively

Percy J. Shaw, foreman of the San Mateo County grand jury, announced this week he would ask that body for authority to call a conference of several county officials to discuss conditions in the county health department. In an interview, he said:

"The charter sets up a board of health and welfare. It should be more active and we intend to find out why it is not more active."

Dr. Gans maintained that the health board is active, meeting on the second Tuesday of each month to review all department reports before they are submitted to the executive and to the board of supervisors.

He named as members of the board, Louis Goecken, San Mateo, chairman; Dr. Will Rebec, Belmont; R. E. Longwell, Millbrae; Dr. N. D. Morrison Sr., San Mateo; and Pansy Jewett Abbott, county superintendent of schools, ex-officio secretary.

"We have recently organized a citizens' advisory council," the health department head stated, "to bring the department into closer contact with the public. We feel that our civic organizations should be consulted in matters vital to the public health and welfare of the community."

A CHICKEN IS A BUM PROSPECTOR

He is an old prospector living in the Willamette valley city of Estacada, Ore., who doesn't begin digging up his own and his neighbor's yards when he discovers that one of his hens has picked up a gold nugget.

"Chickens have picked up gold nuggets along every 'crick' in these diggings since there was chickens, and it don't prove a thing. Over in the mountains east there is a heap of gold, but there's rock and dirt over it so high that no hen will ever scratch it out.

"My advice to everyone is just forget about it and not be like one of our neighbors a few years back. He found a $4 nugget in one of his chickens and killed the rest of his flock figgering that all of them had gold in them—but none did."

Joan Crawford And Spencer Tracy Cast Together—A New High In Love Teams

Spencer Tracy and Joan Crawford in "Mannequin"

Stars Seen Opposite Each Other For The First Time

There is nothing surprising about the romantic teaming of Joan Crawford and Spencer Tracy in a motion picture, except that it hasn't happened sooner.

More amazing is the fact that they had never met until introduced by Director Frank Borzage on the set of "Mannequin," their first co-starring film,opening at the Daly City Theater, Sunday.

But that is really not so startling on a lot the size of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, with its host of more than a hundred stars and featured players.

The screen careers of Miss Crawford and Tracy have many parallels. She was dancing on Broadway in the Shubert production of "Innocent Eyes" when a studio talent scout saw her. This resulted in a screen test and a one-way ticket to Hollywood. Similarly, Tracy's sensational performance as "Killer" Mears in "The Last Mile" took him from the stage to the films.

Miss Crawford rose to prominence with her work in "Sally, Irene and Mary," and won stardom in "Our Dancing Daughters." The advent of the talking picture added new brilliance to her career in such pictures as "Possessed," "Dancing Lady," "Grand Hotel," "Chained" and "The Gorgeous Hussy."

Tracy first gave promise of great things in 'The Power and the Glory." Then last year, he was a candidate for the Academy Award for his portrayal of the priest in "San Francisco," and followed that role with two more personal triumphs in "Iibeled Lady" and "Captains Courageous."

"Mannequin," adapted to the screen from Katherine Brush's original story, gives both stars parts ideally suited to their talents. Miss Crawford creates the role of Jessie Cassidy, who seeks an secape from the poverty of the Hester Street tenement where she was born. Tracy plays John L. Hennsessey, rugged, two-fisted boss of the New York waterfront.

Jessie marries the wrong man, Eddie Miller, a part which introduces a new leading man discovery, Alan Curtis. When Miller fails her, Jessie seeks to live her own life. But Hennsessey, who has fallen in love with Jessie, refuses to let her. With him she finds happiness.

Frank Borzage directed the picture. Featured in the supporting cast are Ralph Morgan, Mary Phillips, Oscar O'Shea, Elizabeth Risdon, Leo Gorcey and others. Joseph Mankiewicz is the producer.
